To Whom It May Concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend Western Petroleum Management ("WPM"). There are a lot of new technologies and procedures which Conserve has significantly benefitted from since our relationship started in June 2009. The benefits have included substantial increase in production in the fields contracted to WPM.

Conserve contracted WPM to manage our field operations in many areas of our producing areas. WPM is also our partner in production, sharing in the success of the company's development efforts. Conserve contracts WPM to utilize their expertise in field optimization in both Alberta and Saskatchewan. WPM's production optimization programs included the application of WPM's geological, geophysical, engineering and project management services.

Conserve Oil Corporation strongly believes that WPM's knowledge in the oil and gas business, attention to detail and concern for quality leads to success for both with their clients and for WPM.

Regards,

David Crombie
President
